Ten Cents

The DIMMER VIEW

Oil 'Explores' Your Pocketbook

Last week when one major oil firm raised prices on gasoline four and a half cents a gallon, another one reduced prices two cents.

That indicates the oil industry is still playing free and easy with the motoring public's pocketbook and is completely disdainful of the public's reaction.

It has been indicated that gas prices will never come down but they may level off if law-makers take the heat off the threat of eliminating the depletion allowance. That is the tax deduction oil firms take on their great profits because our oil wells will eventually run dry. As silly as it is, Big Oil gets tremendous tax breaks for using up the natural resources belonging to you and me. It isn't as if they were not already making great profits before they dreamed up depletion allowance and last year's profits in the industry were unprecedented.

Earlier this year Big Oil said their profits would remain high. "We need the income for exploration" was the excuse.

So what is "exploration"? Oil firms have recently dumped some of their huge profits in hotels (San Diego's Westgate Plaza), circuses (Barnum & Bailey), income property and other money-making investments.

Exploration? Hardly.

It reminds us of the giant Aramco Oil Co. which was owned totally until recently by American interests. And when Aramco raised prices so dramatically during the oil embargo, they were raising it for their own profit. And blaming it on the Arabs.

Apparently the Arabs were reading American newspapers because they demanded to get in on the racket. And Aramco prudently cut a few Arabs in as stockholders—and continued to make record earnings.

Because the public is too gullible to react, Big Oil expects no resistance to higher prices when it becomes mandatory for their stations to provide no-lead gasoline. This fuel will cost at least a cent a gallon more than leaded gas. Many of us recall that the price was increased when they first marketed leaded gas because "additives are expensive."

Anyone who believes gasoline prices will soon be cut is living in a fool's paradise. Big Oil's three-pronged thrust is designed to prevent it. Their first prong is to demand a continuation or an even larger depletion allowance. Failure would bring gasoline prices to about a dollar a gallon is the standard threat. Another prong stems from the Middle East where American tax-payers dollars are poured into the oil-rich countries as subsidies that benefit Big Oil.

It has been said that much of the recent surtax involved by foreign oil potentates has been paid for by our government, probably under an economic aid program.

And Big Oil rolls merrily on its arrogant way adding to the inflationary spiral that may indeed bankrupt this nation.

Who will they sell their oil to then?

EDITOR'S NOTE:

Earlier this week, San Diego's premiere columnist, Neil Morgan in his Evening Tribune column reported: "It's Alice-in-Wonderland time: Gasoline storage facilities are becoming so strained, we are now told, that a gas price war may be upon us within 30 days."

Wilson Proposes County Col Raises

SACRAMENTO — Assemblyman Bob Wilson (D-La Mesa) announced that his legislation to provide San Diego County retired employees with a cost-of-living increase has been sent to the Governor for his signature.

Following today's action Wilson said, "My Assembly Bill 3360 would authorize the San Diego County Retirement Board to pay a much needed cost-of-living increase out of surplus retirement funds in excess of the maximum presently allowed by law. Before any increase can be made, however, it must be approved by the San Diego County Board of Supervisors."

Wilson said, "The cost of living has increased so much in the last few years that retired people are finding it increasingly more difficult to make ends meet. While this legislation would not completely offset cost-of-living increases, it would provide some relief to retired county employees who are living on fixed incomes."

Wilson, who was Chairman of the Assembly Retirement Committee before his recent selection as Chairman of the important Assembly Governmental Organization Committee said, "I think we have accomplished much during my terms as Retirement Committee Chairman. Assembly Bill 3360 is just one example of how my Committee helped retired people combat inflation."

It is expected the Governor will sign the bill which would become law in January, 1975.

Woman's Stereo Stolen

When Donna Kathleen Barrett returned to her home at 3456 Calavo, Spring Valley on Tuesday night, last week, she discovered the bedroom window had been forced open and stereo equipment valued at $300 was missing.

Sheriff's department deputies are investigating the burglary.

Search Uncovers Drug 'Jackpot'

Sheriff's Deputies hit a small jackpot last week when they searched the apartment of Wayne Allen Volk, 25, of 3917 Conrad, No. 15, Spring Valley last week.

It started when Deputy D. G. Gasaway, on a routine patrol saw a marijuana plant growing in the window of Volk's apartment.

Obtaining a search warrant, Gasaway and other officers conducted a search of the premises after obtaining permission to do so from Volk.

They found a tobacco can with marijuana seeds and scraps; a plastic bag of marijuana; a film vial of marijuana; a marijuana cigarette and a brown paper bag with marijuana in it. They were distributed in various parts of Volk's apartment.

They also found a cigar box containing barbiturates and a syringe. In various places were about a half dozen brass pipes.

Said Volk, "It's all mine." He was arrested and booked in county jail.

S.V. Assault Breaks Dancer's Jaw

Norma Martin, 28, a dancer at the Foxy Lady, a go-go bar at 7828 Broadway in Lemon Grove, was admitted to Grossmont hospital about 3 a.m. July 3 after being attacked by an unknown assailant as she walked home from work.

She suffered severe face bruises and a broken jaw. The attack took place near her home at 9118 Lamar st., Spring Valley.

She said she doesn't remember being attacked, what the attacking instrument was or who wielded it.

A plastic bag she was carrying is missing. It contained five go-go costumes valued at $80. The assailant did not take her purse nor disturb the contents. A diamond ring she valued at $2,000 was not taken.

Ms. Martin said she walked home from her Broadway place of employment via the Lemon Grove Jack in the Box for an early morning snack. Then she walked east on Broadway to Campo, south on Bancroft to Lamar—a distance of about four miles.

The attack took place, she said, as she neared her home. She said she walked around crying after she felt blood on her head. Occupants of a nearby duplex took her in and got her to the hospital.

Symphony Orchestra Meets Grant Goal

William N. Jenkins, President of the San Diego Symphony Orchestra Association has announced that the Association had met the $45,000 challenge grant awarded by the National Endowment for the Arts. "In fact," stated Jenkins, "we not only met the June 30 deadline but we exceeded our goal by several thousand dollars. As a result the membership fund, for the fiscal year, ended June 30, is in excess of $150,000. This is more than twice the total raised during the two preceding years."

Jenkins further stated that "The response is particularly gratifying as a measure of the increasing community support for our fine orchestra."

Robbery Suspect Jailed Following S.V. Shootout

A Spring Valley man is in county jail after he allegedly was involved in a robbery and shoot-out last Sunday night.

Booked in connection with suspicion of armed robbery and assault with a deadly weapon on a police officer was Harold Fredrick Rohn, 24, of 9126 Lamar st., Spring Valley.

The incident took place at the U-Totem Market at 3504 Bancroft. According to sheriff's reports, the suspect, wearing a dark blue ski mask and carrying a revolver, grabbed a small boy outside the store and forced him to accompany him inside, where he demanded money. When the clerk complied, Rohn released the hostage and fled.

A task force unit, acting on a tip, was on the scene at the time of the robbery and moved in after the hostage was released. They traded shots with Rohn, who was subsequently wounded.

Rohn managed to run to a nearby house and was given a ride home after he told the occupant that he had been beaten up. Police arrested Rohn at his Lamar st. residence.

He was taken to University hospital and treated for minor shotgun wounds in the face prior to being booked.

The hostage was identified as Daniel Dwight Barr, 12, also of Spring Valley.

Paramedics Program Seen By Grove Rotary

The most recent Lemon Grove Rotary club meeting was held at the VFW Hall. Jim Boyd opened the program by introducing Captain Jack Stevenson of the Santee Fire Department. The Captain spoke about the "History of Paramedics." Stevenson told of his 3½ year fight to establish the paramedics in the Heartland area. A film was shown to the Grove Rotarians on the same subject following the noon meal.

The Rotarians have recently moved their meeting place to the VFW Hall. Meetings are held on Mondays at noon.

Involvement Is SV CoC Drive

The need for more involvement was stressed by President Ed Fleming at the July 8 meeting of the Spring Valley Chamber of Commerce.

Pointing out the need to get young people interested in the Chamber, Fleming said, "The more people that get involved, the more successful the organization will be."

It was along these lines that Fleming made two proposals. The first was to send a letter listing all the active committees to every member of the Chamber. Each member would be expected to select a committee that they were interested in working on.

The other proposal was to form a Chamber Development Committee whose job would be to personally meet with all existing and new area businesses. "Let's see what we can do for them," said Fleming.

On another matter, the Board of Directors voted to change the time of their meetings from the evening to 7 a.m. on the second Monday of each month.

Officers Changed By SCFNC Group

A. E. Larsen, president of S. Cal. First National Corp., was elected to the SCFNC Board of Directors and the Board of its principal subsidiary, S. Cal. First National Bank, at a special meeting on July 1, Alden W. Johnson, chairman, announced.

Larsen succeeds Lloyd L. Schunemann, who in addition to other duties with SCFNC and its subsidiaries, is also vice chairman of the holding company and Southern California First National Bank. F. Seth Brown continues as vice chairman of the bank.

At the regularly scheduled meeting of SCFNC directors on June 27, directors declared a regular cash dividend of 17½ cents per share of common stock payable on August 1, 1974 to shareholders of record on July 19, 1974.

S.V. Massage Sign 'Rubbs' Citizens

On June 21 the Spring Valley CoC Board of Directors moved to write a letter to the owner of the "Velvet Touch Massage Parlor", at 8637 Troy st., in Spring Valley. The subject of the letter concerns the numerous complaints the CoC has received from the local citizenry about the explicit wording of a curb-front sign.

The sign reads, in part, "Topless Switch."

In view of these complaints, the board drafted a letter requesting that the owner, Mr. Ray Kuehn, change the wording on the sign, in order to conform to the "community standard," as specified by Sheriff John Duffy, in the current massage measure awaiting action by the County Board of Supervisors.

In its communication with this paper the board emphasized that the request specified as its objective, a rewording of the ad, not removal of the sign.

Copies of the letter were sent to the County Sheriff and to Supervisor Dick Brown.

To date the letter has been unanswered.

Elderly Lemon Grove Woman Loses $1,500 in 'Pigeon Drop'

Good, old-fashioned detective work by Detective Richard Rabell of the San Diego County Sheriff's Fraud Unit has resulted in the apprehension of two girls who worked the classic "pigeon drop" trick on a 63-year old Lemon Grove woman. She lost $1,500.

Cheryl Colleen Hash, 24 and Gwendolyn Fleischman, 19, both of Los Angeles, were due to be returned to San Diego for arraignment from Torrance where they were arrested as a result of Rabell's communications vigil with the Torrance Police Department.

To the Lemon Grove woman, who lives on one of the streets stemming from Palm (the exact address is intentionally omitted), the apprehension was reward to only a small degree because her elderly life-savings went into the fraud.

The woman told detectives how she had been approached in a Lemon Grove drug store by the two women who claimed to have $29,000 in a paper bag they carried. Also, in the bag, they explained, were gambling receipts. They had found the money and had no way of ascertaining who the owner was.

Might Be Lost To Government The trouble, they said, is that the government might take it if they attempted to bank it.

The women explained that they worked at a medical group in Lemon Grove and that one of the doctors had agreed to bank the money if he were given $2,000 for his trouble. He would give them his check for $27,000 and they would share the remainder three ways—the two girls and the 63-year old woman.

But, they cautioned, each must put up $1,500 "good faith" money. They took the elderly woman to her local savings and loan firm where she withdrew $1,500. The firm didn't have that much money so they gave her a cashier's check which the three took to a local bank and cashed.

The public is invited to submit bids on this lease proposal. The last day offers will be accepted is Friday, 12 July 1974 at 1:30 p.m. Pacific Daylight Time.

Leasing details can be obtained from W. D. Taylor, Marine Corps Base, Camp Pendleton, California. Mr. J. Victor or Mr. W. Hermes at Western Division, Naval Facilities Engineering Command, San Bruno, California (Telephone (415) 871-6600, extension 3048) will also furnish leasing details.

Census Bureau Will Conduct Monthly Employment Survey

Local representatives of the Bureau of the Census will interview a sample of households in this area the week of July 15-19 to obtain information on employment. The Bureau is part of the U. S. Department of Commerce's Social and Economic Statistics Administration.

C. Michael Long, Director of the Bureau's Data Collection Center in Los Angeles, said the households are among 50,000 across the country that have been scientifically selected to represent a cross section of the American people.

The survey, which the Bureau conducts each month for the U. S. Department of Labor, provides a continuous measure of employment and unemployment for the Nation. For example, the May survey showed that employment was $6.0 million, up slightly from the $5.8 million at which it had stood since January. The unemployment rate edged up to 5.2 percent from 5.0 percent in April, primarily because of a rise in joblessness among teenagers.

Information supplied by individuals participating in the survey is kept confidential by law and results are used only to compile statistical totals.

NEW REGULATIONS—Local Stations, like the one above managed by Rick Brown, are girding for compliance with Federal regulations affecting 1975 autos. The cars will be equipped with catalytic converters which are subject to 'lead poisoning'. Most '75 model cars sold in Calif. will be marketed with these converters and will require non-lead fuels.

Unleaded Fuel for '75 Autos Expected To Be Available

All but the most sparsely populated areas of California seem assured of an adequate supply of unleaded fuel necessary to protect the catalysts on 1975-model vehicles from lead poisoning, the ARB staff reported to the Board at its July 1 meeting.

Most 1975 model passenger vehicles sold in California will be equipped with catalytic converters, and these vehicles will require unleaded fuels to protect the catalysts.

The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) defines an unleaded fuel as one which contains 0.05 grams or less of lead per gallon. The State of California has no rules or regulations concerning unleaded fuel and relies upon those promulgated by EPA.

Present EPA regulations, which are in the process of being revised, require that after July 1, 1974, every retail outlet with a throughflow of 200,000 or more gallons of gasoline annually must offer for sale at least one grade of unleaded gasoline. These stations comprise about 71 percent of all outlets in large cities, 50 percent in medium cities and 29 percent in sparsely populated areas, according to the May 7 Federal Register. A retailer who cannot secure the required equipment by July 1 may request an exemption until September 1.

To ensure unleaded gasoline in sparsely populated counties throughout the United States, the Federal Register of May 7 proposes that after January 1, 1975, retail outlets in sparsely populated areas (50 persons per square mile or less) must offer unleaded gasoline if their throughflow is 150,000 gallons or more annually. In California, Alpine, Amador, Calaveras, Colusa, Del Norte, El Dorado, Fresno, Glenn, Humboldt, Imperial, Inyo, Kern, Kings, Lake, Lassen, Madera, Mariposa, Mendocino, Modoc, Mono, Nevada, Plumas, Riverside, San Benito, San Bernardino, San Luis Obispo, Shasta, Sierra, Siskiyou, Tehama, Trinity, Tulare, and Tuolumne Counties fall into this classification. (The calculation of county population available for purchase after ing populations equal to or greater than 50,000 persons).

The following rules for dispensing unleaded fuels into pre-catalytically controlled vehicles have been promulgated by EPA:

1. All catalytic emission controlled vehicles must be labeled "Unleaded Gasoline Only" and be equipped with a gasoline tank filled inlet which is designed for introduction of unleaded gasoline only.

2. A gasoline dispenser or retailer may be in violation if he deliberately or negligently introduce leaded gasoline into such a vehicle.

3. A retailer may be in violation if the gasoline in his pump exceeds the lead standard. Wholesalers and suppliers may also be in violation if their gasoline supplies exceed the lead content limits.

4. Each unleaded gasoline pump must have a nozzle equipped with a spout whose outside diameter at the terminal end is not greater than 0.84 inches with the straight section at least 2.5 inches in length. The retracting spring must terminate 3 inches from the terminal end.

5. The following notice must be prominently displayed at the station: "Federal law prohibits the introduction of any gasoline containing lead or phosphorus into any motor vehicle labeled 'Unleaded gasoline only'."

The staff reported that most major oil stations which carry three grades of gasoline (premium, regular and low-lead) will replace the low-lead by unleaded. Companies which sell only two grades may replace the regular with unleaded. Installation of a new tank and pump may cost between $5,000 and $8,000.

Based on the results of an inquiry made to six major oil companies, the staff concluded that an adequate supply of unleaded gasoline will be available in the large cities beginning July 1. However, the availability of unleaded fuels in sparsely populated sections where most stations do not sell the minimum number of gallons to come under EPA regulations is not assured. Most of these stations are operated by independent dealers who are not controlled by the major oil companies.

Although unleaded fuel is required beginning July 1, demand for such fuel will come after the new models are available for purchase after mid-September.

The staff also observed that in the event of another fuel crisis in which owners of pre-1975 cars might switch to unleaded fuel because of a general gasoline shortage, owners of catalytic equipped cars could be in dire straits.

Donors' Club Handles Special Gift—Life

The San Diego Blood Bank, a nonprofit organization, is now operating on a 100% voluntary blood donor basis. Supplying blood and blood services to all 29 hospitals in San Diego requires a constant increase in sustaining blood donors. Due to a growing population and improved medical techniques, blood needs increase by 15% each year. In 1973, 50,000 units (pints) were needed. By the end of 1974, over 60,000 units will be needed.

Every week there are 12 to 14 open heart surgeries performed in San Diego. These surgeries call for 20 or more units of blood of a specific type. The citizens of San Diego must furnish that blood. And Pints of Life Club members make up an important part of these sustaining donors.

Pints of Life Club Donors are very special people, who agree to give blood when their type is needed, making many life saving transfusions possible.

State Funds Local Plans For Elderly

Grants of more than $800,000 in 17 counties were announced recently by the California Office on Aging for projects and programs available to nearly 17 percent of the state's elderly residents.

Dr. J. M. Stubblebine, State Director on Aging, said the grants will fund 20 programs covering a wide variety of identified needs among senior citizens.

"These projects involve transportation, hot meals, crisis intervention, outreach efforts, information and referral services, counseling, legal aid, consumer education, handicraft manufacture and sales, and education and training of staff working with the elderly," Stubblebine pointed out.

"They are the product of a great amount of innovation and creativity at the local level in California by many dedicated project designers and directors whose work we are happy to fund."

The state director also pointed out that all grants made by his office, whether for continuation of a program or for a new project, are based on the premise that the county or community will in due time be able to finance the programs from their own resources when their continued need is established.

Bill Plans Study Of Special Problems Of Elderly Citizens

President Nixon has signed legislation of special interest to Older Americans.

The bill establishes a National Institute on Aging to consider the special problems of older persons. It also sets up a new National Advisory Council on Aging to be appointed by the secretary of the Federal Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Consumer Affairs Warns Of Vocational Schools

Many California students will choose to continue their education by taking advantage of the many vocational and occupational education and training programs offered in the state. Most schools are legitimate, but the Department of Consumer Affairs urges students to do some checking before enrolling.

- 1) Be sure there is a demand for the job skill you want to learn.
- 2) Don't be lured by high pressure sales methods. Be alert for statements such as "you were recommended," "guaranteed a job," or "last chance."
- 3) Don't be fooled by exaggerated promises of "easy to learn" courses.
- 4) Read the contract carefully — can it be cancelled?
- 5) Visit the school if possible to compare it with its advertisement. Compare the school and its costs with private and public schools offering similar courses.
- 6) Before enrolling, get in touch with at least three prospective employers. Since they are the people who may hire you, they will be able to tell you what they want in an employee. Ask if they would hire a graduate of the school you plan to attend, and how many of these graduates have they hired in the past year. Ask if the training made any difference in starting pay.
- 7) If a correspondence course, does it require "on the job" training which might not be available?
- 8) Ask for references and check the reputation and accreditation standards of the school.

Bollman Scores Opponent For Irregular Staff Use

Mike Bollman, candidate for State Assembly in the new 77th Assembly District, has called upon Assemblyman Bob Wilson (no relation to U. S. Congressman Bob Wilson), to repudiate the recently exposed secret political deal made by Assembly Democratic and Republican leaders. Bollman says the deal will help protect Wilson and five other Assemblymen in marginal or unsafe districts by permitting the use of State staff, paid by taxpayers and the use of funds from the Assembly caucuses for political purposes of the incumbents. It would deny the use of the same staff and the same funds to Bollman and the other challenger.

"I feel that it is wrong to use taxpayers' money for any political purpose whatsoever, deal or no deal, and I urge Assemblyman Wilson to immediately cease this improper practice."

"Sweetheart deals such as this hurt the public because challengers are denied funds and staff to get their points of view to the electorate, while the same funds and staff can be used by incumbents to perpetuate themselves in office. In short, this limits the voters' freedom of choice."

"Back room political deals such as this which add incumbents at the expense of challengers are damaging the American political process and are especially suspect during the present Watergate era." This is Bollman's first bid for elective office, although he has compiled an outstanding record in volunteer civic, political, and charitable activities which culminated in his recent selection as "Outstanding Young Man of San Diego County."

'Family' Relationships Explored at UCSD

Families will exist in the future, but in diverse forms resulting from experiments now underway, says the instructor of a short course on lifestyles, to be presented by University of California Extension, San Diego.

Dr. Rose Somerville will discuss family and community living arrangements of the past and present, and projections about future decades, in a sociology course scheduled for the weekends of July 27-28 and August 3-4. Class meetings will be held in Room 3010 of the Undergraduate Science Building on the University's La Jolla campus, from 10 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. on each of the four days.

Group marriage, serial monogamy, triads, "kibbutz" care of children, dual-career families, cohabitation in preparation for marriage or not, communes of various types, and open marriage are among topics to be covered in the course.

The basis of the instructor's prediction that families will exist in the future is her observation that many of today's lifestyles are aimed at meeting criticisms which were leveled at yesterday's families.

The solutions being tried vary widely in their goals, but all involve some type of family arrangement, according to Dr. Somerville. For instance, where the criticism has been "too tight," the contemporary form is looser; where the objection was "too remote," family members now work for closeness and sharing.

Dr. Somerville will especially welcome educators, counselors and librarians as members of the class, which is also open to any individual interested in an overall view of alternative lifestyles open today. The impact of changing lifestyles on social institutions, value assumptions underlying each experiment, and effects of women's liberation will also be explored through films, small group discussions, and readings.

Dr. Somerville is a professor in the Department of Sociology and the School of Family Studies at San Diego State University. She is the author of "Introduction to Family Life and Sex Education," and has an anthology called "Intimate Relationships: Marriage, Family and New Lifestyles through Literature" coming out from Prentice-Hall Publishers in October.

Myths About Vitamins

The simplest, surest way to good nutrition is still the selection of foods from each of four groups—milk, meat, vegetable/fruit, and bread/cereal. But, in today's health-conscious society, Americans are spending about $300,000,000 a year on vitamin supplements.

Why do they do it? A new fact sheet from the Food and Drug Administration discusses widespread vitamin beliefs that may be responsible. Single copies of Myths About Vitamins are available free from Consumer Information, Pueblo, Colorado 81009.

According to the FDA, the marketing of dietary supplements, many are promoted as an "insurance" policy to guarantee good health. The parks, national and state parks implication of this type of advertising has contributed to the myth that even a balanced diet can't provide adequate nutrients.

This myth has its foundation in another myth which is that modern farming methods have depleted the soil so the food itself is not nutritious. But, according to the fact sheet, more is done today in modern farm practices to protect and enrich the soil than was even known about in the past. Crop rotation, soil tests and routine enrichment of the soil were developed because the "natural" way was unreliable both in the quantity and the quality of the foods such methods produced. As further argument against this myth is the fact cause of death, with automobiles that protein, carbohydrates, fat, fiber, and vitamins are ranking second. Other fatal-controlled primarily by the plant's genetic structure, not lightning bolts and spills from the soil.

Food is still the best and most enjoyable source of nutrients. Consumers who eat a balanced diet, therefore, rarely need vitamin supplementation.

Open Season On People In Campgrounds

Ants, mosquitoes, wasps, bees, gnats and other pesky creatures are ready and waiting for the annual invasion of campers who flock to hill and dale for recreation.

It is estimated that 40,000, 000 Americans and Canadians park their campers and trailers or pitch tents in trailer parks, national and state parks and other camping grounds every year.

At least 3,000,000 more are the rugged individuals who go off with backpacks and canoes to commune with nature and seek adventure in forests and mountains. The total annual cost of camping fun runs to more than $4 billion.

There is an additional cost in deaths and injuries, which are mounting every year as more and more people take the shrinking open spaces. It has been impossible for safety experts to ascertain the precise extent of deaths and injuries to campers every year, although the available data indicates that the figure runs high. Drownings were found to be the most common cause of death, with automobiles, accidents on campsites, bile accidents on campsites, and ranking second. Other fatal-controlled primarily by the plant's genetic structure, not lightning bolts and spills from the soil.

Local Girls 'Self Govern' For Insight Into Democracy

The purpose of Girls State is to provide citizenship training for girls of High School age; to afford them with an opportunity to live together as self governing citizens; to inform them about duties, privileges, rights and responsibilities of citizenship in order that they may understand and participate in the functioning of their government.

The girls were selected by high school counselors for their scholastic ability, personality and enthusiasm for the project.

Applicants must be 15 years of age for YMCA and Red Cross certification.

HOME-COOKED This Week's RECIPE

Thrifty New England settlers knew the value of dried beans and how to make the most of this dietary staple. Despite the fact that dried beans have in some cases doubled or tripled in price, they are still one of the most nutritious of budget foods. They are a good source of protein, food energy, B vitamins and are versatile enough to be the basis for many satisfying main dishes.

In the interest of saving time and energy, many cooks like to take advantage of canned beans and add their own flavor touches. Whether you prepare the beans from dry or canned ones, serve them with another plant protein food such as bread. Round out the meal with a green vegetable and a simple dessert.

Defending Champions Back at Torrey Pines For Jr. World Play

Randy Barenaba and Suzanne Cadden live a half world apart. Barenaba studies hard at the high school at Laie, Hawaii, while Miss Cadden attends class in the chill of Glasgow, Scotland.

The pair have a date late this month and their getting together marks the first time the Junior World senior division (15-17) boys and girls reigning champions will return to defend their titles.

Barenaba followed his brother Charlie's footsteps (winner of the '71 Junior World tournament) with 2-over par 290 last year on the rugged south course at Torrey Pines to edge USGA Junior Champion Jack Renner by three strokes. Renner was the '72 winner and the only defending champion ever to come back for a second try in senior division play.

Miss Cadden shaded Alice Miller by one stroke, coming from four strokes back on the final round, to win the '73 girl's crown.

Registrations from both defending champions have arrived at Junior World headquarters. In order to repeat as champions, however, both must conquer a more difficult field, a field strengthened in both the girls and boys divisions by qualifying tournaments.

The Professional Golf Association (PGA) has just completed a full range of qualifying tournaments in its sections across the country with the winners of each tournament, both the boy and girl champion, receiving the expense paid trip to San Diego for the Junior World Golf Tournament.

The Junior World tournament has been selected by the

Auto Facts Released By Manufacturers

The 1973/74 edition of the annual statistical publication, Automobile Facts & Figures, has been published by the Motor Vehicle Manufacturers Association.

The 72-page factbook presents statistics on motor vehicle production and registration, owners and use, and economic impact. Interpretive text has been used to complement graphs, charts and tables outlining vehicle related issues and trends.

The book reports that the 1973 calendar year was the best in history for production and retail sales of passenger cars and motor trucks. It points out that 93 percent of cars now in use are equipped

PGA as that organization's vehicle for junior golf support and has undertaken the task of running qualifying tournaments in PGA section across the nation to find suitable contestants for Junior World Competition.

The PGA has also undertaken the financial responsibility of sending each boy and girl sectional champion to the Junior World, guaranteeing the best young golfers in the country will be teeing up at Torrey Pines this year, and in years to come.

Competition gets underway this month on five San Diego Courses and in four age divisions. The 100-and unders will play at Presidio Hills, the 11-12 at Mission Bay, the 13-14 at Balboa Park and the seniors at Torrey Pines, North and South courses.

with one or more emission control systems; U. S. households not owning cars have dropped to 20.5 percent, while those with two or more in use have risen to 30.2 percent, and motor use taxes account for 17.6 percent of all state tax revenues.

Combinations of text and graphics look into fuel conservation methods as well as vehicle recycling, makeup of auto trips, the progress and problems in highway development, and the impact of motor vehicles on the nation's economic welfare.

Among the many points made in the book are:

- a new car purchase amounted to nearly 29 percent less of a family's annual income in 1972 than in 1950;
- road mileage has increased only 18 percent in the last 50 years, while vehicle travel has risen 18000 percent;
- the average vehicle traveled 10,370 miles in 1972;
- the average age of cars in use is over 5.7 years.

The booklet is designed as a reference for writers, speakers, government, civic and business leaders and others with a professional interest in motor vehicle use. Some 60,000 copies will be distributed. Public and college libraries will receive copies.

A sister publication, 1974 Motor Truck Facts, will be published shortly, presenting year-end totals and other pertinent information on commercial vehicles.

He said that International Grand Prix rules are strict. The course must be 800-900

Seven Winners Listed In Cajon Sat. Matchup

Seven main event winners will go to the post this Saturday night at Cajon Speedway's 1/4 mile, hi-banked oval with 60 cars vying for positions in the nine event program.

Special added attraction will bring 20 cars together to the death in the third Destruction Derby of the '74 season after the conclusion of the 30 lap main event.

Robert Combs and Bob Dearie are the two previous winners of the popular, fan pleasing crash-up-ups.

Ron Overman of El Cajon remains the top point leader by 116 points after his 2nd place finish in last week's 50 lapper.

Two time champion, Pat McIntyre of Spring Valley leads Gary Crossland of Lakeside by a mere 57 points while at least 220 separate the rest of the field.

Three veteran racers will be looking for their third win as the second half of the Super Stock car season goes into full swing.

Overman, Hitt and McIntyre all have two victories and are tied for the lead in the most wins department.

As the new racing surface has increased the speeds by over a second per lap, six track records have been changed in the races to date.

The one, four, six, eight, thirty and fifty laps have all fallen to lower marks. Many of the remaining marks have not been challenged.

Beer Drinkers Pay Their Way

Record California beer sales of 7.3 million barrels during the first six months of 1974 sent more than $129 million in tax money flowing into federal, state and local treasuries.

According to figures released here this week by Geo. W. Osoke, vice president and Western District director of the United States Brewers Assn., California beer sales are currently up 8% over a year ago.

The 7.3 million barrel total for the period means that beer drinkers contributed $65.7 million to the federal government which imposes an excise tax of $9 per barrel.

The state excise tax of $1.24 per barrel produced more than $9 million for the coffers in Sacramento, and the state as well as local governments shared in a $35 million point of purchase sales tax total.

Osoke said the direct taxes, which account for 44.6% of the cost of producing a barrel of beer, were accompanied by an additional $19.3 million in indirect taxes which are levied against brewers, wholesalers and retailers.

The association official pointed out that the taxes are all paid by the consuming public in the form of higher retail prices.

He also terms the state and federal excise taxes as "discriminatory" because they place an inequitable share of the cost of government on the consumers of beer.

Poway Dragster In Orange Raceway Event

Frank Bradley and Bob Williams, finalists in last week's Nitro Jam top fuel competition at Orange County International Raceway, have entered the Professional Dragster Assn. Championship slated for July 26-27 at OCIR.

Bradley sent his top fueller through a blazing elimination run that produced a track record elapsed time of 5.97. The former mark was held by James Warren of Bakersfield at 6.06. Warren, one of the most consistent drivers on the drag racing circuit and winner of last year's PDA title, has also filed his entry with Doug Kruse, sponsor of the 8th annual dragster competition.

Bradley, a resident of Napa, lost out to Williams in the finals as the latter zipped down the quarter-mile strip in his all-time best clocking of 233.16 mph and a 6.27 et.

The 30-year old Williams lives in Poway in the San Diego area setting up another north-south confrontation with Bradley.

The Professional Dragster Championships will feature 32 top fuellers, 16 funny cars and 32 combo eliminators along with top fuel and top gas motorcycles.

Sierra Hikes For All This Summer

The summer hike series of the Sierra Area of the California State Park System has begun.

The summer series of Saturday hikes will continue thru August 31. These hikes are led by rangers trained in natural and human history and are designed to appeal to both experienced hikers and family groups. All starting times, except for the August 10 hike, are 9 a.m. Guided hikes such as those in the Lake Tahoe area are among the ways the State Park System meets some of its major responsibilities; to interpret the natural and cultural heritage of California and to provide opportunities for outdoor recreation.

Skydivers Added To Shrine Star Football Classic

An eight-member, internationally-known skydiving team will kick-off the halftime show at the 23rd annual Shrine All-Star Football Classic on July 27 by jumping into the Rose Bowl.

The performance by the Rumbleseat Parachute Team, a Southern California-based team to be played July 13, 14, 20, 21 at Fiesta Island in Mission Bay Park.

The charity game, whose entire proceeds go to the Shriner's Hospital for Crippled Children in Los Angeles, will feature 56 of S. Cal's finest pre-college players. Kick-off time for the contest, which has produced 27 All Americans and three Heisman Trophy winners, is 7 p.m.

Jumping from 7,500 feet, a team of three persons will dive carrying American and Shrine flags. They will free-dive 5,000 feet and land on the Rose Bowl 50 yd. line.

The trio will be followed by five skydivers who will form a star.

Sponsored by the Al Malaikah Shrine Temple, the game helps support the $1 million raised annually for the Los Angeles Shrine Hospital, which has 1,400 needy crippled children currently under treatment.

TAKE FIVE

By John E. Wirges

The trouble is the strike comes along about 30 years too late. Hardly anyone really appreciates football players giving whatfor to the assortment of millionaires currently collected in the National Football League's Wigwam.

I mean, everybody has problems and who among the $100 a week working stiff can feel any sympathy for picket line marchers who find fault with employment at $20,000 for six months labor.

The timing is all wrong. We got troubles of our own. Good old Joe Workingstiff is trying to make ends meet but a walk through the supermarket blows his mind. It almost too much, already.

Do you remember the day you stopped buying hamburger because it went up to 40c a pound? That wasn't too long ago, I mean I was shaving then and I don't remember a president before Roosevelt.

And speaking of Mr. President Roosevelt, didn't he say, in a radio speech back in July of '32, "Any government, like any family, can for a year spend a little more than it earns. But you and I know that a continuance of that habit means the poorhouse." Sure he did. It's right there in the history books.

Well, we have, both government and family, been spending a lot more each year, for a lot of years, than we earn. If his words were true in 1932, Lord help us, they are stark reality now.

And that is the ghost that rattles the change men try to scrape together because the rainy day is here.

Who's Sorry?

Soo, how can you feel sorry for the behemoths plugging the path to the training camps of the NFL? When you come right down to it, you can't.

Now those husky lads are as sincere as any trade union, card-carrying, sign-holding picketer that ever thumbed his nose at the establishment. All the Pattys and the Jons, the Hams and the Juans who ever felt the working end of a pick or the blister side of a shovel can understand what it means to get the dirty end of the stick and what it takes personally for each man to join in the effort to overcome the dictates of Mr. Boss.

But you'll admit that at $20,000 per, and that for only half a year, conditions are hardly grubby. Now, of course, some NFL'ers don't get 20 grand per half an annum, but most of them do. The average is up around $24,000 from the owners report and the players admit to something above $18,000. And there are those who top out above the $100,000 mark, but those are mostly quarterbacks and you know how they throw things around.

Even so, those picket gridders claim they got more than one beef, and you'll have to give them that. They probably do. They only have so long a professional life and they have the right to make the most of it.

For a player, a real player assured of a starting assignment when his picketin' days are done, the strike ain't gonna hurt. And the rookies and free agents, who will get more looking from coaches this year than they or their talent had any right to expect, the strike ain't bad.

Good News For Rookies

The borderline player, the support troops, the back up guys, then it hurts. They know the Rooks and Free Agents in camp are getting a leg up on their jobs. Striking for them isn't easy. They aren't the big money guys, and they got it all hangin' out.

And they can't help it if times are hard and the sympathy of Joe Fan and his brothers is more concerned with the high cost of breathing. Hell, you can't even die cheap these days.

Now if this was 1944 instead of 1974, a time when 10 million guys were in uniform, when everybody hated his lieutenant, sergeant, captain, general or what ever title the foreman had, anybody giving the arm to the boss would have immediate and everlasting support.

Perhaps the biggest blunder Ed Garvey, the players labor "expert," has committed, was to call the strike 30 years too late.

Why, back in 1944 even NFL salaries would have been suitable cause for striking.

And look what hamburger cost then!

OTL Tourny Starts Saturday

A record 450 teams are entered in the 21st World Championship Over-The-Line Tournament to be played July 13, 14, 20, 21 at Fiesta Island in Mission Bay Park.

The sponsoring Old Mission Bay Athletic Club expects crowds of nearly 10,000 for the elimination games with the finals attracting 15,000 or more.

Sixteen courts, 60 feet wide and the length of a football field, will be used for play by the three-man teams starting at 8 a.m. and continuing to dusk.

Competition will be in three divisions: women's, century (combined team ages must exceed 100 years) and open. Three San Diegans, Charlie Davidson, Jim Portlock and Jim Williams are defending champions of the open division.

More than 900 games will be played in the tournament, with a regulation game lasting five innings and requiring on the average of about one half hour to complete. Over the line is a game played primarily on the beach.

Model Railroaders To Convene Here

San Diego has been selected for the National Convention of the "National Model Railroad Association." Some 1200 out-of-towners from 50 states, Australia, Japan, and Europe will gather at the Town & Country Convention Center and will literally "take over" the entire facility and hotel accommodations for five days July 24-28.

The Annual Convention is held in various regions of the country, the most recent being Atlanta. This year's meeting could be a Record-Setter! Southern California, the choice location in America, is close to population centers and the Pacific Coast NMRA Region. Responsible for bringing the convention to San Diego are "The Foothills Model Railroaders" and the convention chairman, Dave Kahler of El Cajon.

HOW TO BURN DEBRIS SAFELY.

Everyone wants his home and property to look clean and well cared for. Therefore we often gather up old branches, dried leaves, weeds and trash. But before we burn them, there are some important rules to remember.

ALWAYS CHECK BEFORE BURNING.

There are some places in this country where open trash fires cannot be built. And there are other cities where there are special laws that must be followed. So always be sure to check with your local fire department or forest ranger before you burn unwanted trash. A safe fire leaves your property clean, and your home safe.

USE A SAFE INCINERATOR. A safe incinerator means safe burning. Especially for old newspapers and loose trash, which should never be burned in an open fire. But before you use an incinerator there are a few important things you should check.

Always make sure that leaves, grass or anything else that might catch fire, have been cleared for at least 10 feet around the incinerator. Then inspect your incinerator to make sure there are no cracks or holes. This way you'll be sure no sparks can escape. Also, be sure that the screen or spark arrester covering your incinerator is the kind recommended by your local fire department. And that it's in top shape, without tears or holes.

PREPARE FIELDS BEFORE BURNING.

People who live in cities aren't the only ones who burn debris. Often farmers and ranchers have to burn weeds or brush in their fields. And since open field burning can be dangerous, there are a few simple steps to follow.

Always check with your local fire department or forest ranger and lookout tower before burning. They can help you keep an eye on your fire if necessary.

Never burn on a windy day, and before you burn be sure to plow a wide fireline around the field. Always keep firefighting tools and water spray tanks handy since they can help you control flames that might otherwise get away. And never leave the fire, not even for a minute.

Please, follow these simple rules the next time you burn debris. That way you'll be sure your property will be clean, well cared for and safe from fire.

Notes and Quotes

Jack Ankersen of San Antonio has officially been selected the Executive of the Year in the ABA by The Sporting News in his first full year as general manager of the San Antonio Spurs. The 32-year old has been scheduled for the San Diego Padres as a token of appreciation to their fans for helping to surpass the all-time attendance record with slightly less than half the home season remaining.

The all-time record was 644,272 set during the 1972 campaign.

The cash scramble will be held on Friday, July 12 to celebrate the breaking of the record. The Padres will be playing the Montreal Expos that evening.

"Mr. Kroe wanted to show his appreciation to the fans for breaking the attendance record so early in the season," commented Padre President Buzzie Bavasi. "The support of the fans this season has been truly tremendous and this is one way we can say 'thanks' for this support."

Twenty Padre fans will be selected to take part in the scramble following the Padres-Expos clash. Five fans from each of the field, plaza, loge-press and general admission areas will be chosen in a drawing of ticket stubs.

A Brinks truck will scatter $10,000 worth of pre-wadded play money on the infield. The lucky fans will then be turned loose to pick up all the "phony bucks" they can which will be converted to

Hatha Yoga Classes

The Downtown YMCA is offering a Hatha Yoga class for men and women starting Tuesday evening, July 30. A beginners class will be offered from 6:30-8 p.m. and an intermediate class will be from 8-9:30 p.m.

The instructor, Kathy Fischer, says the discipline of Yoga is a method of stimulating the body to function in a natural way.

old former quarterback for the St. Louis Cardinals of the National Football League and Little All American in football and basketball at Ripon College received much of his executive training with the Kentucky Colonels under Commissioner Mike Storen.

The New York Nets set an attendance record in the playoffs by averaging 13,073 fans a game. The Nets attracted 104,584 fans to eight home games, shattering their own league record of 12,951 set in 1971-72.

Larry Brown, the new coach of the Denver Rockets, coached a team of U.S. college seniors to an 8-3 record against the Russians during a recent tour of the Soviet Union.

Louie Dampier of Kentucky replaced Mel Daniels of Indiana this season as the career scoring leader in regular season play with 11,257 points to Daniels' 11,009. James Jones of Utah moved past inactive Larry Jones and Donnie Freeman of Indiana into third place with 10,463 points.

Daniels remained the runaway rebounding leader with 8,856 and Dampier increased his career assist lead with 3,128.

Julius Erving of New York qualified for the first time in career scoring average and jumped to second place behind inactive Rick Barry, 30.5 to 28.8. Dan Issel of Kentucky fell to third at 28.3.

Barry and Erving also ran 1-2 in playoff scoring average, 33.5 to 30.1. Roger Brown of Indiana was the playoff point leader at 1,998 and Daniels the rebounding leader with 1,584. Their teammate, Freddie Lewis, took the assist lead from Dampier, 432 to 427.

Kentucky announced it will not play any games in Cincinnati next season, instead playing 34 games in Louisville, six in Lexington and two at sites to be named later. Last season, the Colonels played 10 games in Cincinnati, four in Lexington and one in Bowling Green.

The Colonels, in announcing the name of their new coach, the acquisition of Averitt, the signing of Wil Jones and their departure from Cincinnati, held an unusual press conference for the public in Freedom Hall attended by some 2,000 season ticket holders.

Southern California amateur golfers are invited to take to the links at Mission Viejo on Tuesday, with such well-known professionals as Jerry Barber, former National PGA champion, winner of the Tournament of Champions and member of the Ryder Cup Team for six straight years; Pat Reilly, Southern California PGA section "Professional of the Year"; and Jimmy Powell, former Southern PGA section champion.

Several berths are still available for amateurs in the program, to be held just prior to the 50th anniversary tournament of the southern section, which will be staged July 17-21. Both events will be held at the Mission Viejo golf course, just off the San Diego Freeway in southern Orange County.

Deadline for amateur entries is tomorrow. Details on the pro-am and the sectional tournament are available at any southern California PGA pro shop.

A total of $2,560 in prizes have been set aside for the pro-am.

The swallows that come every year to San Juan, Capistrano, Calif. spend their winters in Argentina.

A two-minute time limit will be in effect during the scramble, but the bills will be in denominations large enough so the entire amount should be collected by the fans within the allowed time.

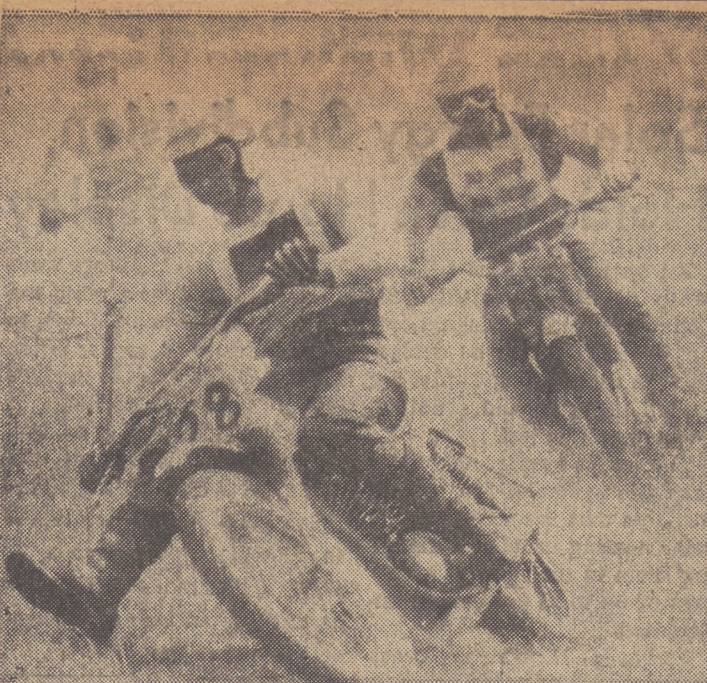

Each fan will be issued a special money grab bag and there will be no limit as to the amount any one individual may collect.

The cash scramble will be held on Friday, July 12 to celebrate the breaking of the record. The Padres will be playing the Montreal Expos that evening.

MOTOCROSS GRAND PRIX — Adolph Weil, of Germany, second in world points this year, will be going for the championship at Hang 10's Motocross Grand Prix Sunday at Carlsbad.

Motocross Grand Prix Sunday at Carlsbad

Important changes have been made to the Carlsbad motocross track in preparation for Sunday's Hang Ten Grand Prix. They include an extra quarter-mile-long section of track and the addition of several footbridges to improve spectator convenience, the changes were announced by Tripp-Cox, Inc., promoters of the Grand Prix.

"Changes have been made both for riders and spectators," said co-promoter Gavin Tripp. "By lengthening it a quarter of a mile, we have stretched the course to a full mile and a half which should make the track more demanding and increase the competition."

Added footbridges will allow spectators to cross the track in several different places to give them better viewing possibilities.

Several grandstands have been erected at strategic points which will further improve comfort.

Entries for the Hang Ten Grand Prix already include the fastest 500cc motocross racers from the U.S. and 11 other nations. Finland's Heikki Mikkola and Belgium's Roger DeCoster, battling for the 1974 world championship, are co-favorites in what is America's only world points round.

Hang Ten United States Grand Prix will be an important event and could well decide the championship.

Robinson was killed a year ago at Vallejo in a spill at the county fair track.

"Jack was one of the most popular riders I have ever known," said racing director Jack Meyers, "he was liked by all and he rode every horse as though it were a world champion in a stakes race."

The Jack Robinson Allowance will be a six furlong sprint for older horses (4-year-olds and up) with a $2500 purse.

Sunday's feature, "The Puerto Vallarta," may attract undefeated Law Prince since the conditions are suitable and trainer F. L. Burkholder has expressed an interest in trying the 4-year-old horse at a distance.

Law Prince won his third straight victory last Saturday by defeating Rosy Dunker in the feature at six furlongs and was closing strong at the finish. The distance of one mile in next Sunday's feature should be to his liking.

In other news from Agua Caliente, H. K. Wellington continues to be the leading rider and Juan Garcia the top trainer.

Jockette Penny Ann Early, injured Saturday when her horse fell in the eighth race, has been released from a Tijuana hospital where she was kept for observation and treatment of what proved to be minor injuries. X-rays showed no fractures as first feared.

Dean, Coleman To Join Tilt Of Old Timers

Hall of Fame pitcher Dizzy Dean and former New York Yankees second baseman Jerry Coleman are the latest additions for the annual Old-Timers Game to be held at San Diego Stadium prior to the Padres-New York Mets clash on July 20.

Dean (63) was selected for the Hall of Fame in 1953 following a rather shortened career due to an unfortunate injury. Dean finished with a record of 150-83 with a 3.03 ERA and 1155 strikeouts.

Four times he won 20 or more games in a season including the 1934 and 1935 campaigns when he topped the National League with 30 and 28 wins, respectively. He also had five seasons in which he struck out 180 or more batters. In four of those five seasons (1932-35) he led the league and in the other (1936) he was a close second.

His top strikeout season was 1933 when he whiffed 199 batters, but he also turned in efforts of 195 (twice, 1934 and 1936) and 191 (1932).

Dean was tabbed the National League MVP in 1934. During that campaign he was first in wins (30), winning percentage (.811), strikeouts (195), shutouts (7) and complete games (24) and was the runnerup in ERA (2.66) and saves (7).

Irish Jack O'Halloran Back at Coliseum Ring

His sights fixed on a showdown with the undefeated and gloves, Juan Bustamante, his highly acclaimed youngster Duane Bobick, comebacking veteran Jack O'Halloran (58-13-4) will take a giant step toward that goal this Friday night when he meets the Korasetta Kid of Tonga (27-3; 22 K.O.'s) in the 10 round Coliseum feature.

On the strength of his exciting battles against Henry Clark, Rahaman Ali, Roby Harris, Howard Smith and Kenny Norton, O'Halloran quickly became the "People's Choice" among San Diego fight fans when Mickey Davies first opened shop at 15th and E last season.

During his brief reign as California heavyweight champion, Jack even became a small-time celebrity, making television commercials and the like. But after losing the title to Smith over a year ago on a disputed verdict, O'Halloran suddenly packed his bags for the east coast and dropped out of touch.

Bustamante is Trainer

It wasn't until a few months ago that the Irishman began popping into his favorite local taverns, talking of a possible wrestling or sports announcing career over a few beers. Such ideas were short-lived, however, and it wasn't long before big Jack was back to the Coliseum ring.

He played in seven World Series for the Yankees and was the club's leading hitter in the 1957 classic with a .364 average.

Shrine Teams To Report For Work Sunday

Fifty-six members of the North and South squads of the 23rd annual Shrine Football Classic will report on Sunday, to begin preparation for the July 27 benefit game.

The players will report to the International Hotel for physicals, a luncheon and a tour of the Los Angeles unit of the Shriners Crippled Childrens Hospital. The hospital has received more than $1 million of support from game proceeds.

Following the hospital tour where each player "adopts" a child for the game, the 28-member squads will report to their training camps for 12 days of drills for the game, which will be played in the Rose Bowl.

The North team, coached by Hal Lambert of Taft High and Paul Womack of Redlands High, will workout at Whittier College.

The South squad, coached by John Hangartner of Kennedy High (La Palma) and Ralph Vidal of Gardena High, will set up its headquarters at Cal. State, Long Beach.

Having produced 27 All-Stars of the game, the Shrine players and three Heisman Trophy winners will

Wild Animal Park Jungle Trail Open

The first new exhibit to open at the San Diego Wild Animal Park in over a year, the Kilimanjaro Hiking Trail, is open to the public.

Carol, Jean and Scout, all young female Asian elephants, led the way up the trail on the first walking safari for the formal dedication.

The Kilimanjaro Trail winds for a mile and a quarter through the hilly terrain of the Wild Animal Park's East African section. The 120 acres there are home to hundreds of animals, including giraffes, rhinos, lions, elephants and various species of exotic antelope and birds.

A major portion of the Kilimanjaro Trail, built at a cost of about $160,000, was financed by Fotomat Corp. of La Jolla.

Hikers begin their walking safari on the trail at the south end of Nairobi Village, near the clock tower. The trail winds up gentle knolls and slopes into valleys in a counter-clockwise circuit, ending at the same point in Nairobi Village. Concealed fencing and moats keep visitors and animals separated along the trail.

At Kilima Point hikers are advised that the trail continues for a half-mile further, past African lions and Asian and African elephants and a nearly-completed Bengal tiger exhibit; or hikers may turn around there and return to Nairobi Village for a less strenuous walk.

For those continuing, the trail leads to a 70-foot suspension bridge carrying hikers over a deep ravine before climbing to a spectacular panorama of Nairobi Village and much of the San Pasqual Valley. The trail then circles back to its origin in Nairobi Village.

The suspension bridge, built over a deep canyon, is constructed of sturdy Douglas fir poles suspended on one-inch steel cables and anchored in 30 tons of concrete on each side.

Mail Bag

On June 27, the SACRAMENTO BEE published an article titled "Uncontrolled Schools" in which Don Speich, BEE staff writer quoted James W. Guthrie, associate professor of education at UC Berkeley as saying "The tremendous growth in the size of school districts coupled with the subsequent multi-layered administrative bureaucracies and the escalation of teacher power have reduced the public to a role of voiceless impotency."

Two days earlier, SB 1592, relating to school finance, was passed by the Senate. State Senator John Stull voted against the measure. Here he explains his rationale.

Dear Editor: As you no doubt know, Senate Bill 1592 (Dills) was passed by the State Senate June 25. I voted against this measure, and I want you to know why.

Not only does this bill carry a $42-45 million price tag in state dollars (in addition to the $120-123 million in new state monies for education contained in the 1974-75 state budget), but it is in fact nothing less than a property tax increase measure, designed to bypass the safeguards incorporated in Senate Bill 90 and Assembly Bill 1267. Having told the people that we have placed a limit on local property tax increases, a limit which can be exceeded only by a vote of local people, the legislature, if it passes SB 1592, will now be reneging on that commitment.

As amended June 19, June 24, and June 27, this measure provides an increase in the foundation program of $15 per a.d.a. for equalization districts only. However, it also increases local revenue limits by up to $15 per a.d.a., which is essentially a state-sanctioned, non-voted local property tax

Solar Energy Subdivision Holds Open House Display

An open house was held recently at El Cajon's Vista del Colinas, which is the nation's first subdivision to be designed with solar energy units for heat, hot water and eventual air conditioning.

The event was sponsored by Energy Systems, Inc. (ESI), the firm that is developing the solar heating units and installing them in the homes. A savings of up to 95 per cent is anticipated.

Terrence R. Caster, president of ESI, said visitors were given guided tours around the 28-acre subdivision, where homes designed to use solar utilities systems are in various phases of construction. A working model of the rooftop solar heat collection unit was on display with a model home.

"Solar energy," says Caster, "is destined to become a 77 billion dollar industry rivaling the nation's entire auto manufacturing business."

Registration started Monday for the Summer Session of obedience training classes at the San Diego Humane Society starting July 23, 24 and 25. Your dog must be over four months old with proof of rabies, distemper, hepatitis and leptospirosis. Pre-registration is required and the dog's shot records must be presented at that time. Cost for the entire course is $15.00 payable at registration.

Afternoon classes will be held every Thursday for eight weeks starting at 1:00 p.m. on July 25. The classes last for one hour.

Evening Classes, which are also held once a week for eight weeks, will be conducted at 7:00 p.m. and 8:00 p.m. beginning Tuesday, July 23 and Wednesday, July 24.

Owners are taught to train their dogs the five basic commands: Come, Sit, Stay, Down and Heel.

A six foot leather leash and a choke collar are required.

Duane, incidentally, will have his hands full on July 26th at the Coliseum when he tries to tame the talented fists of Mike Weaver in the 10 round main event. Weaver took Rodney Bobick, Duane's older brother, down to the wire a couple of months back, losing a controversial split decision.

Hair Returning

One week prior to Bobick-Weaver, world ranked lightweight contender Cowboy Jimmy Hear will headline opposite "Lobito" Montoya of Zatecas, Mexico.

And in an additional note for Friday's show, undefeated 18-year old Randy Shields (19 straight), who looked superb in stretching Felix Alvarado in two rounds last week, will bounce right back to take on Jose Macias of Mexico City in a second 10 rounder.

Also, last week, Manuel Lujan, the San Diego high school youngster won his fifth straight fight from Alex Mayoral of Pomona in four rounds.

Tommy Howard KO'd Antonio McDaniels at 2:28 of the third round of a scheduled 8. And Oscar Ortiz has hardly worked up a sweat when he KO'd Oscar Armas of El Paso at 2:50 of the first round.

Tickets Friday are $7.50-$6.44 and $3.

TAX ANSWERS?

F. S. Schmidt, DISTRICT DIRECTOR, INTERNAL REVENUE SERVICE

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Is in breathing due to an allergy. there any way I can reduce Is the cost of the air-condition- the amount subject to tax by er a deductible medical ex- having the buyer pay me in pense?

A. Yes. The cost of the air-conditioner plus operating ex- penses less any resale or sal- vage value constitute a medi- cal expense provided that the need for it is substantiated by proof that the air-conditioner is used primarily for the alle- viation of a person's illness, it does not become a permanent part of the dwelling and it may be removed to other quarters.

Q. Would it make any dif- ference for purposes of claim- ing my son as a dependent whether I paid his college tuition or he did?

A. Yes. Tuition payments are included in total support for determining whether or not you furnished more than half and are thus entitled to claim your son as a dependent. If your son pays the tuition, it is included in the amount of total support furnished by him; if you pay it, the tuition payments are included in total support furnished by you.

'Sea Farming' Process Developed By Waste Treatment Experiments

A technique for using processed sewage effluent to increase the production of sea food in coastal areas throughout the world has been developed by a corporation in San Diego.

In pursuit of a compact and efficient system to treat human waste and prevent ocean pollution, scientists at Cubic Corporation found a way to double the speed of maturity of oysters in controlled mariculture.

With much of the world facing a future food crisis, the new technique of sea farming was developed from the concept of using sewage as a recyclable product with high nutrient value, rather than dumping it to pollute the world's water.

The basic unit in the system is a self-contained sewage processing unit, known as Hydro-cube, which utilizes ozone to oxidize organic and mineral constituents of sewage, converting them to usable nutrients such as nitrates from ammonia and nitrites, and phosphates from phosphorous compounds. The ozone also serves as a powerful disinfectant and viricide to kill all harmful microscopic organisms without unwanted residue, such as chlorine, which would be harmful or distasteful in growing seafood.

"For centuries man has disposed of his wastes by indiscriminately dumping them into the environment," stated Dr. D. F. Ciambone, Cubic scientist. "With new awareness of the problems of polluting inland waterways and lakes, as well as the ocean, we have been making some gradual progress toward preventing water pollution."

"The world is entering an era of not enough food and a degrading biosphere in which to survive," Dr. Ciambone said. "Instead of viewing sewage as a disposal problem, we looked at it as a recyclable product capable of reuse and providing valuable nutrient for mariculture."

The self-contained Hydro-cube unit was developed originally for handling wastes generated on ships, in pleasure boat marinas, parks and small communities. Its use can be expanded to serve small to medium size communities in any coastal area of the world, as well as inland lakes and waterways.

The Cubic oyster farm tests were conducted on a limited scale to prove workability of the concept. The succulent oysters which resulted were completely free of foreign taste, pathogenic bacteria or viruses.

As a result of the prototype system tests, scientists estimate that a sewage disposal system, operated in this manner, could completely cleanse the effluent from a community of 100,000 people while yielding approximately 2,000 tons of oyster meat per year.

More Firemen May Get Jobs

As many as 1,000 more seasonal firefighters will be hired this summer by the California Division of Forestry, if that state agency is to meet the requirements of a new federal law.

Last summer, the division hired 1,800 temporary employees to fight wildland fires. "We're going to almost double our staff," says State Forester Lewis A. Moran, "because of minimum wage and overtime provisions of the new Federal Fair Labor Standards Act."

"We'll be reducing our normal 120-hour, on-the-job week to 60 hours, but we won't necessarily hire twice as many firefighters. At some fire stations our crews will work more than 60 hours and receive overtime pay."

Under the new federal act, firefighters are required to be paid overtime for more than 60 hours of work, a work period that includes time spent sleeping, eating, and resting at a fire station.

CDF is under orders from Gov. Ronald Reagan to maintain last year's level of fire protection, despite the impact of the new federal law.

The Division of Forestry protects approximately 28 million acres of California land. About 3,000 of its employees work full-time, round-the-year.

BBB Condemns Disparaging Ads

The BBB has noted a disturbing trend in advertising. Encouraged perhaps by Federal Trade Commission attitudes, more and more advertisers are seeking to gain unfair advantage by emphasizing their competitors' weaknesses, real or imagined, point by point. Furniture stores, banks, deodorant, mouthwash, razor and dog food manufacturers, among many others, apparently hope to increase their own profits by disparaging the goods or services offered by their fellow businessmen.

The BBB has always advocated that ethical advertising requires products or services be sold on their merits, without "knocking" (no matter how "innocent") of competitors' wares. Direct comparisons rarely, if ever, tell the full story about competing products; in most cases the results are counter-claims that confuse and mislead the public. The end result is a loss of consumer confidence in all advertising.

It would be virtually impossible to find a perfect product. The advertiser who is attacked can always find something to criticize in the product of his competition. As "knocking" copy becomes general in an industry the entire industry will "unsell" itself to the public.

"The Advertising Code of American Business," developed and adhered to by the American Advertising Federation and BBB's nationally and locally, contains a provision on disparagement:

"Advertising shall offer merchandise or services on its merits and refrain from attacking competitors unfairly or disparaging their products, services or methods of doing business."

We can only hope that responsible agencies, media and advertisers will recognize the dangers inherent in naming competitors in advertising and strive to check the "knocking" trend before it gets completely out of hand.

State Has Reins On Job Discrimination Against Physically Handicapped

Since July 1, discrimination against employees or job applicants because they are physically handicapped has been an unlawful employment practice in California.

The prohibition against such discrimination was added to the State Fair Employment Practice Act through a 1973 legislative amendment which gives the Fair Employment Practice Commission responsibility for enforcement of the new provision. Author of the measure, AB 1126, was John F. Dunlap (D-Napa, Solano). According to Roger A. Taylor, executive officer of the Commission, any FEPC office will receive and investigate bona fide complaints of such discrimination that occur on or after July 1.

"The new amendment," Taylor said, "defines a physical handicap as impairment of sight, hearing or speech, or impairment of physical ability because of amputation or loss of function or coordination, or any other health impairment which requires special education or related services."

Not included in the definition of physical handicap under FEPC policy, Taylor noted, is mental illness, mental retardation or behavior disorders stemming from alcoholism or narcotics addiction.

Additionally, the amended law does not cover an employee whose physical handicap makes him unable to perform his duties, or to perform his duties in any way endangering his health or safety or that of others. The amendment does not prohibit law enforcement agencies from inquiring into the physical fitness of applicants for peace officer positions, nor require employers to alter their premises to accommodate personnel with physical handicaps.

Taylor said he expected that grievances under the new amendment would be filed immediately, as was true when other amendments became effective. In 1970 prohibitions against job discrimination based on sex were added to the FEP Act, and in 1973, discrimination because of age, years 40 to 64. Complaints based on these two factors now account for more than one out of four cases filed with the Commission.

Complaints of discrimination because of a handicap will be subject to the same procedure as those involving race, color, creed, national origin, sex or age, Taylor said. After a case is docketed, each will be investigated and, if evidence of discrimination is disclosed, attempts will be made to conciliate the case through conferences with the employer. In cases where evidence of illegal bias is clear and no private conciliation can be reached, an accusation of discrimination will be made and the matter scheduled for public hearing.

Entries Being Taken For 2nd Annual Pussycat Show

Entries are now open for the second annual San Diego Pussycat Pageant to be held Sept. 8 at the Scottish Rite Hall in Mission Valley.

Entries will officially close Aug. 17 or as soon as 175 household pets are entered. It's first-come, first-entered in the show that will produce the new "king" and "queen" of catdom.

Last year's winner, Terry Burke, of San Diego, issued a challenge to all comers with his 28-pound tabby Fritz who was crowned "king" of last year's pageant.

The Spring Valley new real estate brokers were Kathleen Marshall, 10343 Elmdale dr., and Betty Amis, 8837 Lance ave.

The broker-training program offered by Anthony Schools includes four college-level courses — real estate finance, real estate appraisal, legal aspects of real estate, and real estate practice — each consisting of 45 classroom hours.

'Open Space' Lands Allow Tax Rebate to County Governments

California "open space" land qualifying for lowered tax assessments increased by more than 11 percent or almost 1.3 million acres during the 1973-74 fiscal year, State Controller Houston I. Flournoy reported.

"I have just distributed $17,403,109 as reimbursement for property tax income lost by school districts, counties and cities in which this open space land is located," Flournoy said. "The reimbursements were based on claims accounting for 12,719,389 acres of such land as compared to 11,440,008 acres in 1972-73."

The reimbursement program was established by the 1972 Legislature to recompense local governments for revenues lost because of lower assessed value on property qualifying as open space in accordance with the California Lands Conservation Act of 1965 (Williamson Act).

The law gives school districts first claim on the available reimbursement funds, and this year 279 school districts claimed $7,719,269 as compared to $7,171,452 claimed by 247 districts last year.

Apprentices Train By 'Living Blind'

Learning the trials and frustrations of living is a basic requirement for apprentices at Guide Dogs for the Blind in San Rafael.

The three men and two women there learning to train guide dogs must also meet this challenge of learning the world as the blind must experience it, according to Robert W. Clottu, the State's acting Chief of Apprenticeship.

The three year on-the-job training program at Guide Dogs is a fully accredited apprenticeship, with all work processes and instruction approved by the Apprenticeship Standards division of the State Department of Industrial Relations.

There are more than 300 State-approved apprenticeship programs, with 36,000 men and women enrolled. Of these programs, the one for guide dog trainers is among the most demanding — for example, their training includes wearing a blindfold constantly for ten days.

The Guide Dogs apprenticeship program is as old as the school itself. Both were founded in 1942 and all of the school's instructors and supervisors are graduates. The training is uniquely fitted to the school's needs and is the school's only source of trained personnel.

"It isn't easy to become a guide dog apprentice," said a spokesman. Many apply, and the few that are accepted have had several years of experience training dogs in obedience, working with veterinarians, or managing kennels.

Working always under supervision, the Guide Dog apprentices learn their dual responsibilities — to train the dogs and to teach the blind how to depend on the dogs.

Whether working with dogs or with people, the apprentices find they need plenty of patience, understanding and compassion.

It's rigorous physical training and the apprentices have to be able to stand up to it. They walk at least five miles a day, often with a big, strong, untrained dog pulling impatiently at the harness.

"We get a better idea of what the blind person needs for his guide dog, rather than what we would think he needs," says Don Frisk, senior apprentice.

Guide dogs have to be more than slavishly obedient, say the two young apprentices. A good guide dog develops self-confidence and initiative, enough to go ahead and disobey a command if it is necessary to protect his master.

"A capable guide dog will drag a blind person away from a hazardous situation by physical force," says Frisk.

Sheriff's Deputy Provides Auto 'Instant Recovery'

Judith Kaye Edwards of 1681 San Altos, Lemon Grove, 504 Worthington, Spring Valley, knew the sheriff's deputies to be men of action — but not that fast.

When she reported the theft of her van to Deputy R. B. Hood, of the Sheriff's Lemon Grove office at 2:35 July 2, it was a matter of minutes before she had it back.

With only the name of the make of the van and a sign on the rear door, Hood drove to the San Altos address to get additional details. Enroute he saw a car that answered the general description of the stolen car in the general neighborhood of the theft. Hood committed a U-turn and the driver started a movie-like attempt to evade the patrol car reaching speeds of as much as 70 miles an hour in the residential district.

Hood pursued van finally pulled to the curb where Detective Hood arrested the driver for auto theft. The suspect was Daniel Allen Jones, 18, of 504 Worthington, Spring Valley. He was booked in county jail.

Hood's superior at the Lemon Grove office said, "He's a pretty good officer."

Help Asked Missing Pet

The Samoyed dog that rode a sled in the Old Time Days parade is missing.

It has been missing for two weeks and its owner is grieving.

In the Parade, the dog who answers to the name of "Blanca" rode a sled pulled by two children. The sign on the sled read "Be Kind to Animals".

Blanca will be 13 years old next month and requires a special diet. Blanca's family and friends urge anyone knowing the whereabouts of the dog to contact the Ball family at 2544 Pergl st. in Lemon Grove, or call them at 460-4274.

Job Gain In June Noted

Light seasonal gains in employment in California between May and June were enough to set a new state record for total employed, the Department of Employment Development announced today. Also, the gains were enough to offset an increase in the number of jobseekers, so the unemployment rate edged down from 7.6 percent in May to 7.5 percent in June.

The June employment total was 8,463,600, an increase of 83,800 jobs over May's total of 8,379,800. The number of jobseekers was up by 79,900 from 650,000 in May to 729,900 in June.

The increase in jobs between May and June was actually less than normal for this time of the year, the Department said. Part of the slowness was caused by trade disputes which idled some metal workers in Southern California and paper, lumber, electronic workers and nurses in Northern California.

Pre-Bullfight Reception Fetes Santana

The lieutenant governor of Baja California, Francisco Santana, was guest of honor Sunday at a cocktail party at the swimming pool area of the Palacio Azteca Hotel in Tijuana.

Santana, of Mexicali, then attended the bull fights in the nearby downtown bullring, El Toreo de Tijuana.

The party, attended by 200 representatives of the press and bullfight clubs from both sides of the border, was given by Eduardo Solorzano, area representative for Casa Pedro Domecq, makers of brandy in Mexico and Spain.

Solorzano, a former matador, also attended the corrida, where his nephew, matador Jesus Solorzano Jr., starred.

This week, a corrida of art has been booked in the downtown bullring, El Toreo de Tijuana on Sunday.

There, beginning at 4 p.m., three of the fiesta's most artistic performers will each face two bulls of Reyes Huerta. They are Manolo Martinez, Adrian Romero, and Jaime Rangel.

For Romero, 24, of Mexico City, this will be his first Tijuana appearance since his popular campaigns along the border in 1971 and 1972.

Last summer Romero, who is especially graceful with the cape and daring with the banderillas, fought 17 times in Spain. His greatest day there was Aug. 26, when he won both ears and the tail from each of his two Gardel bulls at Berlanga de Duero, province of Soria.

Your friendly neighborhood good neighbor.

Maybe you're one of those people who thinks of The American Red Cross only when you see a news report of a flood or hurricane on TV. And it's true—we're there. In hours. Giving aid. And comfort. And supplying the necessities of life. All as a gift from You—the American people.

But the other things we do are just as important, if not so spectacular. And they happen right in your own home town.

The truth of the matter is: Red Cross is what you need it to be. Wherever you live. Whoever you are.

That's why you find us doing different things in different home towns. We teach blind kids to swim in some places. Or make sure ghetto youngsters have ice skates. Or teach baby care to deaf mothers. Or help out with drug programs. You name it. We do it.

Whatever a community needs, is what Red Cross needs to do. So, in a very real sense, you are Red Cross. And Red Cross is you. And helping the Red Cross is very like helping yourself.

the good neighbor.
